Identifying Your Training Needs

The Health and Safety Executive (HSE) sets the rules that every workplace must comply with and states that you must provide sufficient first aid equipment, facilities, and personnel at all times.

Every workplace is different and has unique needs. The guidance provided below will help you to determine the right first aid training for your employees.

Step 1: Degree of hazard	Low hazard (e.g.) offices, shops, libraries)			Higher hazard (e.g. light engineering and assembly work, food processing, warehousing, extensive work with dangerous machinery or sharp instruments, construction, work involving harmful chemicals)
Step 2: Number of employees	< 25	25 - 50	> 50	< 5	5 - 50	> 50
Step 3: Recommended minimum first aid requirements	At least one person trained in Emergency First Aid at Work	At least one person trained in Emergency First Aid at Work	At least one person trained in First Aid at Work for every 100-employed on-site (or part thereof)	At least one person trained in Emergency First Aid at Work	At least one person trained in Emergency First Aid at Work or First Aid at Work (depending on specific hazards)	At least one person trained in First Aid at Work for every 50 employed on-site (or part thereof)
Step 4: Previous injury and illness records/leave	What's the risk of injury or ill health? Can this minimum cover deal with injuries and health issues that might occur and provide adequate cover for leave and holidays?
Step 5: Specific risk factors to consider	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Aid Skills Update training is vital to maintain your first aider's skills and confidence • Disabled employees • Existing health issues • First aider leave and absences • Inexperienced employees • Lone/home workers 			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Multiple floors or buildings • Multiple shifts or work outside usual hours • Professional drivers • Proximity of emergency medical services • Public access • Remote workers • Working with children or infants

What you get:

- A First Aid Manual, first aid supplies, face shield keyring, and pen
- A maximum of 12 delegates per trainer, meaning plenty of one-to-one guidance
- Associate Membership Insurance at no extra charge, when certificate is awarded

Course content:

- The role of the first aider
- Communication and casualty care
- Basic defibrillator training
- Bleeding
- Choking
- Minor burns
- Minor injuries
- Resuscitation
- Seizures
- Shock
- Treatment of an unresponsive casualty

Assessment:

Continuous observation by the trainer.

COURSES

Why train with us?

St John Ambulance Guernsey is the UK's leading first aid organisation and has been teaching and delivering lifesaving first aid and health & safety training for decades. Our experience and understanding mean our practical and interactive courses teach your employees essential skills and provide your team with the confidence to perform first aid and save lives.

St John Ambulance Guernsey – Training Services

Formed in 2005, St John Training Services Guernsey is part of St John Ambulance Guernsey. Our professional trainers are qualified to the highest standards to teach lifesaving skills and are drawn from members of your community including the emergency services, health and teaching professions.

Free Associate Membership Insurance

We automatically provide all students who successfully pass one of our qualifying first aid courses with 'Good Samaritan' insurance cover for the duration of the validity of their training qualification. This insurance covers students against claims arising from first aid they may have delivered outside of their workplace, club or association.

Supporting St John in the Bailiwick of Guernsey

St John Ambulance Guernsey – Training Services is a 'Not for Profit' organisation. The income we receive from the training courses we provide goes straight back into supporting the varied voluntary and rescue activities of St John Guernsey. So, the benefits of choosing to train with us extend way beyond your own organisation.

Frequently Asked Questions

What if my course is relocated, rescheduled, or cancelled by St John?

We make every effort to avoid this happening, but occasionally it is necessary. This is why it is vitally important for us to have your current telephone number and email address, so that we are able to notify you as soon as possible. If the change is not acceptable to you, we will attempt to book you on to a more suitable course date or provide you with a full refund. Cancellations made by the candidate will be subject to our normal Terms & Conditions.

If I can no longer attend a course, can I get a refund?

In accordance with our Terms & Conditions, we only offer a refund if your course is cancelled by St John. Circumstances such as illness, work commitments, or leaving the island are not considered for refunds.

Can I give my place to a friend/colleague?

Yes.

When do I need to pay for my course?

Please refer to our Terms & Conditions, paragraph 2.

When will I receive my certificate?

Provided all course fees and any additional charges have been received in full, certificates are issued at the end of the course.

Terms & Conditions

Our aim is to make it as easy as possible to learn First Aid and related subjects with St John Ambulance Guernsey – Training Services. The following conditions are therefore intended to be as simple as possible to meet your training needs.

1. Bookings may be made by email or telephone. A booking confirmation and invoice will be sent no later than 4 weeks prior to the course start date. If courses/examinations are held outside the island of Guernsey, any expenses incurred such as payment for extra hours incurred by the nature of travel, travel costs and refreshments will be charged in addition to the standard course fees.
2. Payment should be made no later than 3 weeks prior to the course start date.
3. CANCELLATION/NON-ATTENDANCE. All cancellations must be made in writing. The FULL course fee will be levied in respect of any cancellations made less than 14 days prior to commencement of the course. A fee of 50% will be levied for cancellations made between 14 and 21 days prior to commencement. A substitute delegate can be named at any time. Non-attendance on the day will attract the full course fee.
4. If a student arrives late for a course, or is absent from any session, we reserve the right to refuse or accept him/her for training if we feel insufficient knowledge or skills can be gained in the time remaining. In all such cases, the full course fee remains payable.
5. St John Training reserves the right to cancel a course up to 2 weeks in advance of the start date if numbers booked make the course impractical to hold. In such circumstances, as much notice as possible will be given and an offer will be made for a free transfer to another course date or a full refund of fees paid.
6. To be eligible to attend a two-day requalification course, candidates must be in possession of a valid First Aid at Work certificate issued by an HSE approved provider which is current on the last day of the requalification course.

*All details in this brochure are correct at the time of going to press. St John Ambulance Guernsey – Training Services reserves the right to change course dates and costs without notice.
